CONGRESS REQUESTED TO PASS LEGISLATION

Too Much Confusion Exists at Present Owing to the Way the Roads Are Harassed; Investors Are Holding Back.

By Evening Herald Leased Wire
Kansan City Sept. 27.—Conflicting legislation in regard to railroads which would make federal control superior to that of the states was adopted in resolutions adopted and announced today in the morning break session of the American Bankers' association in annual meeting here.

This was due to a large measure to the impairment of railroad growth and the investment hesitancy, which has arisen in consequence of the enormous waste and inefficiency of railroad supervision by congress and at the same time by 48 states.

Conflicts as existed in the resolutions asked the committee from the savings bank section before adopting any railroad legislation.

Official election to the state legislature section were.

Major S. E. Baugh, Columbus, Ga., president, E. B. Colburn, San Francisco, first vice president, George D. Martin, Milwaukee, second vice president, and A. E. Phillips, Duluth, secretary and treasurer.
